Public Health is the science of promoting health, preventing disease and premature death of a population by systematic efforts of Society, Communities or Individuals, usually in the presence of limited resources. The Key areas are Health Protection, Health Improvement and Health Care Services.

Although PUBLIC HEALTH is the back bone of Medical fraternity, it has been, over years, much neglected in our country, but the current COVID pandemic related crisis has once again put Public Health importance on the centre stage and taught us the lesson on its importance....further, as a responsible nation – it is imperative that a CENTRE OF EXCELLENCE on Public Health and Epidemiological studies matching International Standards with multi disciplinary international faculty be created in Andhra Pradesh.

Our country – while it is galloping ahead on Technology- Vaccine Science- Biotechnology, Clinical Medicine and Diagnostics, it is seriously, lagging in the area of Public Health and Epidemiological Studies.

This apart, Public Health is not only important for Clinicians/Physician Researchers but also for the Policy makers including Budget Deciders in health management.

Hence importance of Public Health to be relooked at and as a world Class CENTRE OF EXCELLENCE, not only for Andhra Pradesh but entire South East Asia region.

Following areas and departments will buttress the Public Health initiative from all angles...convergence of Public Health, epidemiology, economics, Big data Analytics, Computing, Artificial intelligence with many stake holders running the Institute and none working in SILOS!!
