An aerial photograph of the University of Northern Iowa campus during a golden sunset. The sun is low on the horizon, casting a warm, orange glow over the scene. The sky is filled with soft, white clouds. In the foreground, several large, multi-story brick buildings with white window frames and arched windows are visible. The campus is surrounded by trees with autumn foliage in shades of orange, yellow, and green. In the background, a city skyline with industrial structures and a large stadium with a white dome can be seen. A white callout box with a purple border is positioned in the lower right corner, containing text and a laptop graphic.

WHERE WE'RE LOCATED: CEDAR FALLS, IOWA

A safe, welcoming community to call home.

You probably have a bunch of things you're looking forward to experiencing while you study in the United States. Lucky for you, Cedar Falls, Iowa, the home to our campus, is large and vibrant enough to always find something to do – yet small enough to easily make connections. It features a low cost of living and diverse mix of restaurants, shops, parks and entertainment venues. As part of the midwest, Iowans pride themselves in their welcoming nature and friendliness, which we're confident you'll quickly feel once you're here.

The Waterloo Regional Airport, located about six miles from campus, provides daily round-trip service to Chicago for connecting flights to more than 700 cities worldwide.

The University of Northern Iowa does not discriminate in employment or education. Visit uni.edu/policies/1303 for additional information.
